canvas prints - information sheet

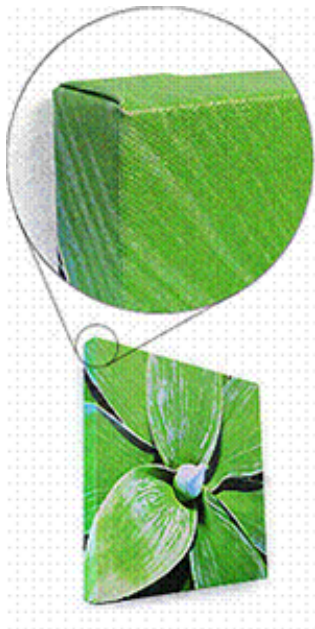

Capture the vitality of your bridal flowers and remember them exactly as they looked on your wedding day...fresh and alive!

This cannot be achieved with traditional techniques like freeze drying and chemical preservation.

bridesinbloom can transpose your flowers onto a large canvas print that is visually meaningful, conversational and truly unique. Your bouquet image is wrapped around the frame giving your work of art a linear and highly contemporary finish.

Flowers are a living thing and our images will reflect the essence of your bouquet in its freshest and most perfect state. We professionally photograph a high-resolution image of your bouquet under special lighting conditions just prior to delivery on the morning of your wedding to ensure your flowers are captured at their freshest.

Your bouquet image is printed on a premium quality canvas using fade resistance pigment inks. The canvas is then treated to provide UV, moisture, abrasion and dirt resistance.
